Seen, Heard and Done Among Those Who Go, Come and Tarry—Women and Society, Here and Elsewhere

WOMAN'S WANTS.

(According to a popular poet, all that a woman wants is love.—News Item.)

All she desires is love, you say?
That shows how much you know.
She wants to see the matinee
And to the circus go.
She wants a handsome diamond ring,
She wants a rope of pearls;
She wants a poodle on a string,
She wants some extra curls;
She wants a bonnet twice a year,
She wants an Easter hat,
She wants to read her title clear
Unto a stylish flat;
She wants a four-seat motorcar,
She wants a red Worth gown,
She wants a trip to Europe, or
At least to Newport town,
She wants a cask of rare cognac,
She wants a diamond pin,
She wants a carriage of her own
To go out calling in;
She wants the earth, the Milky Way,
And half the stars above,
And yet you have the nerve to say,
That all she wants is love!

MASTER FRANK BURNS CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY.

Master Frank, the handsome little son of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Burns was six years old Tuesday and his papa and mamma gave him the privilege of celebrating his anniversary in his own way.

Frank chose a hay ride to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey's camp at Magnolia Bluff.

There was a big wagon load of his little friends and a smaller wagon filled with chaperones. The drive in the early moonlight was a merry one and the welcome with which they were received gave zest to everything.

Mrs. Burns carried refreshments which were supplemented by coffee and fried fish with which Mrs. Harvey surprised the young host and his guests, all of which were greatly enjoyed by all ages.

The party returned to the city about 10:30 happily ready for bed, and hoping Frank will soon have another birthday.

NOTES FROM ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL.

The Navy Department has decided that the battleship Missouri, recently with the Battleship Squadron at Hampton Roads, shall reinforce the Asiatic Squadron as soon as some necessary repairs are completed at the New York Navy Yard. These repairs include the replacement of a new steam cylinder and the repairing of the ship from stem to stern. This overhauling will be carried out as speedily as possible, as it is the desire of the Navy Department that the vessel shall be in Philippine waters not later than October 1.

All accounts agree that the sailors of Admiral Sigsbee's squadron who went from Chebourg to Paris to escort the remains of John Paul Jones made an excellent showing, and had a highly enjoyable time of it. The Paris correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette makes the following comment: "The American man-of-war man appears to be younger than his British and French confreres—a very alert and altogether very likely young man. It is doubtful if the guard of the 'specia' from Cherbourg had ever charge of so much high spirits. All regulations—and they are dreadfully serious on a French railway—were set at naught, and even the alarm bell rang repeatedly, merely by way of emphasizing the joyousness of the passengers. It took the 'chef de train' the first hour or two to get used to it. The Parisians were much struck with the simplicity of the men's equipment and the camaraderie displayed between officers and their command. There is a great absence of formalism in the bearing of sailors and marines, but one has the feeling that they are meant for use. When on the march they have the free swing of the sailor man on shipboard and an air as if fire and water would not stop them."

The younger set of Jewish society enjoyed a delightful picnic dance at Electric Park last night.

What does it avail a man, though he keep his own premises pure as the floor of a convent refectory, if his neighbor throws out unclean tin cans and leaves them to breed stegomyia and other mean feelings?

The Journal's Daily Fashion Feature

DRESSY COAT IN SILK OR PONGEE.

The loosely fitting coats are among the most effective styles for misses as well as for children. In the illustration a round yoke over the shoulders is the only attempt at fitting made. To this the body of the garment is applied in box pleats, these not stitched, but well pressed through out. A fancy bouillonne of the silk, made with a featherbone cording in either edge, is posted in cape fashion on the shoulder yoke, which is unlined for coolness, and this same trimming touch appears on the cuff that bands the full loose puffed sleeve. Just to the curve of the hips is the right length for these effective little wraps.

FLORIDA ROAD SOLD TO SOUTHERN

GAINESVILLE PEOPLE BELIEVE BIG COMPANY IS BACK OF PURCHASE OF GAINESVILLE AND GULF.

News of an important railroad deal reached the city last night by wire from Gainesville, says the Jacksonville Times-Union and Citizen. The dispatch said:

"An important deal, in the sale of the Gainesville and Gulf Railroad, running from Sampson City, its northern terminal, where it connects with the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad, to Fairfield, its southern terminal in Marion county, in all a distance of about forty-eight miles.

"The sale was made by F. M. Simon, of Tampa, A. B. Stuckey and B. W. Blount of Ocala. Following the sale and transfer the new company was organized, with S. F. Parrott of Macon, president; A. J. Stuckey, first vice-president; B. W. Blount, second vice-president; H. E. Taylor, treasurer; L. E. Barker, superintendent, and W. S. Banks, auditor. The last officers were from Gainesville and have been identified with the company in the same capacity in the past.

To Build to Tampa.

"While nothing authentic is learned, it is stated upon what appears to be reliable authority that the Southern Railway is behind the deal, and that the road is to be pushed through to Tampa, which would shorten the distance to the west from Tampa by about fifty miles. It is also stated that the work of pushing the road through to Tampa will be commenced at once."

The Gainesville & Gulf railroad was built in 1893 from Gainesville to Micanopy. At that time it traversed the finest fruit and vegetable section in the state of Florida, and bids fair to be the best piece of paying property in the state. It was then extended several miles further south to Fairfield. When the freeze of 1894-95

STATE OF OHIO A LAND OF PLENTY

S. D. INGRAHAM WRITES OF THE BEAUTY AND PROSPERITY OF BUCKEYE STATE.

Woodland, O., Aug. 7, 1905.

Editor Pensacola Journal:

It seems to be in order for those going from home to correspond with the papers and tell of new scenes and manners and institutions of strangers.

A few hours and a few dollars change the writer's environments from the parching sands of West Florida to the green pastures and fields of waving grain in central Ohio.

Conditions were so changed that nothing seemed so appropriate to express an inward feeling as that made by the aged man when he gazed upon the sea for the first time: "Oh God, how restful!"

Miles away from the busy haunts of traffic, surrounded by stately forest trees, covering a rich growth of one of the most nutritious of forage plants, blue grass, which with the shade, moderates the summer heat, this is perhaps a typical farm for this part of the state although somewhat larger—consisting of some 1700 acres—well adapted to the growth of all plants suited to the climate. Some two hundred acres of it were sown to wheat last fall and the crop gathered last week made an average of 25 bushels to the acre, worth 80c per bushel. Some 500 acres are in corn with the promise of the largest crop for many years. It will average over 50 bushels to the acre.

This immense prospective crop of corn will be utilized in producing beef pork, mutton, wool and raising fine cattle as the short horn industry is a specialty, the present herd consisting of some 300 head worth $50 per head, while some in the herd are worth $3,000 each. One imported bull weighs 2,300 pounds.

The blue grass pastures are marvels of beauty and richness, bordered by streams of purest water. In no season in half a century has this part of the state been blessed with such crops as this year. All the crops gathered thus far have averaged far above the ordinary yield, giving evidence of general prosperity.

This excessive yield of cereals and hay has stimulated prices in real estate. For instance, a farm of a few hundred acres nearby with fair improvements changed ownership last week at $30 per acre. This sum seems high for grain raising, but when a yield of 25 bushels of wheat to the acre worth 80 cents, or 80 bushels of corn to the acre worth 40c per bushel, there seems to be a fair margin on the investment.

A well stocked farm here is next in value to a gold mine and not a few of the land holders believe so and never care to go away except during the winter months, then they hasten off to the genial climate of Florida.

MERCURY WORSE THAN THE DISEASE

The effects of Mercury and Potash are worse than the effects of Contagious Blood Poison, for which these minerals are generally used. They cannot cure the disease, and in addition set up a poison of their own, producing dyspepsia, by drying up the gastric juices, salivation, sores, mercurial rheumatism, and often necrosis of the bones.

Bowling Green, Ky., Mitchell House.

Gentlemen:—For over four years I suffered greatly from a severe case of Contagious Blood Poison. I went to Hot Springs, staying there four months at a big expense. I then consulted physicians, who prescribed Mercury. Nothing did me any good. In fact the treatment proved more harmful than beneficial. Thus I continued to suffer for four years. I mentioned my case to a friend, who told me that S. S. S. had certainly cured him. I at once commenced its use, and in six months could find no trace of the disease whatever. This was about two years ago, and there has been no sign of return.

S. S. S., a remedy made from roots, herbs and barks, is the only known antidote for Contagious Blood Poison. It thoroughly and permanently eradicates the poison from the blood so that no sign is ever seen of the disease in future. S. S. S. builds up instead of tearing down the system, as do Mercury and Potash, and when it has cured the disease every part of the body has been toned up by its purifying and tonic effects. S. S. S. also removes any effects of the mineral treatment from the blood. We offer a reward of $1,000.00 to prove that S. S. S. contains a particle of Mercury, Potash or any other mineral. Home treatment book and any medical advice will be given without charge.
